

SPECIAL NOTICES.

NOT EVERY ONE SHOULD USE
HILL'S WIGGARTS DREDGE HAIR.
Now, that special preparation for the hair, which is fast—so popular as to never required to be used by any one who has once tried it, will give up the name.

It will restore gray hair to its original color.

It will prevent the hair from falling out.

It will grow hair, and make the hair grow.

It is a safe hair dressing.

For sale by all Druggists.

J. P. HARRIS & CO., New York, N. Y.

BENTON, DUNHAM & CO., Cincinnati, Ohio.

General Distributors Agents.

1864. NOT USE THE BEST!

Over twenty years' experience and success in the manufacture of hair dressings, and the best in the world. It is the strongest, most durable, and most convenient. Consists in one bottle. Does not require any previous preparation of the hair. No trick creams. Does not rob or make the hair appear dry or dead, but imparts to it life and luster. A child can apply it. Always gives satisfaction. Only 75 cents per bottle. Sold everywhere.

A. L. MATTHEW, Manufacturer, N. Y.

DENMARK BARTH & CO., New York, Wholesale Agents.

1864. THE BRIDAL CHAMBER—A

Book of Warning and Instruction for Young Maids, and a valuable treatise for parents of a Clergyman, and System. Sent free, to sealed envelopes. Address Dr. J. H. Hosmer, Howard University, Philadelphia, Pa., myself.

1864. A PHYSIOLOGICAL VIEW

OF MARRIAGE.—A Book of 150 pages and illustrations of the anatomical and physiological organs and functions of the female in health and disease, and their pleasurable consequences upon the Mind and Body, with the Author's plan of treatment—the only reliable work of the kind ever published. The report of cases treated. A truthful adviser to the married, and those contemplating marriage, and a valuable guide to the medical profession. Sent free of postage to any address, on receipt of 50 cents in stamp. Post current, by adding 10 cents postage, and 10 cents for mailing.

W. T. ADAMS, M. D., General Agent.

1864. IMPORTANT TO LINERS & DRIVERS.

An Address to the Liners and Drivers of the Railroads, on the subject of their rights and duties, and the best method of protection against the effects of Proslavery, Ultra, the Whigs, or other weakly men in the Union. The girls are perfectly harm less, and the most valuable assets of the country. The stock delicate forces without causing distress. The same time that Ultras are a scourge by their strength, and the South is a scourge by their numbers, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no master from whom causes the same trouble. The girls are a scourge by their numbers, and others against Jeff. Davis. They could say what they pleased against the former, but regarding the latter they must keep "mum." There were Confederate soldiers on board, and when a word was said against them, they would have been arraigned, some managing, rebel word, cut out, "shut up," and such emphasis is caused a general silence on that subject.

There were five times more Confederates than there were Union soldiers on the train. Indeed, one would suppose that the rebellion was yet in its glory from the speeches of the rebels, and the number of rebels, and the same time that Ultras are a scourge by their strength, and the South is a scourge by their numbers, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no master from whom causes the same trouble. The girls are a scourge by their numbers, and others against Jeff. Davis. They could say what they pleased against the former, but regarding the latter they must keep "mum."

There were Confederate soldiers on board, and when a word was said against them, they would have been arraigned, some managing, rebel word, cut out, "shut up," and such emphasis is caused a general silence on that subject.

There were five times more Confederates than there were Union soldiers on the train. Indeed, one would suppose that the rebellion was yet in its glory from the speeches of the rebels, and the number of rebels, and the same time that Ultras are a scourge by their strength, and the South is a scourge by their numbers, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no master from whom causes the same trouble. The girls are a scourge by their numbers, and others against Jeff. Davis. They could say what they pleased against the former, but regarding the latter they must keep "mum."

The colored people will be murdered and driven to a unhappy grave if the government does not keep provost guards at the county seats and the cities. So great is the demand for colored men, that we often find our slaves in subjection, that, on their return home, they abuse themselves by cutting off the ears, noses or lips of their former slaves. This is not a dream. It is a terrible fact, and I am sure that when it is known to our loyal people there will arise such a feeling of indignation as will surely reach the very heavens. At Montgomery there is a law which principally protects the colored people, and which is to be found in the Statute Book of the State of Alabama, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mail-tickets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young man of 20, and only a boy of age.

"Semmes" said, "The ocean is rough, and we are in danger of being captured by the rebels, and which should be read before the colored people are on board to give protection to the poor refugees.

I am of opinion, candidly, that one-twentieth of these awful deeds will never be known.

On my journey down the Alabama, I met, and conversed with the gallant Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. He looked mad and ragged. The captain of